

LIEDERBACH CHALLENGED FROM FLOOR

LAND OFFICES
OF NO. DAKOTA
CONSOLIDATED

Dickinson, Minot and Williston Offices Discontinued; Records Brought Here

LOCAL OFFICE ENLARGED

All Land Business in the State
Will Be Transacted Through
Bismarck Office

All United States land offices in North Dakota will be consolidated in the Bismarck office.

Official notice of the change was received at the land office here today
in a communication from Land Commissioner William Spry.

The Dickinson, Minot and Williston offices will be discontinued, and all of their records will be shipped to the Bismarck office.

The change probably means the addition of two or three clerks in the local office and will bring many visitors to the city during the year to transact business.

"Under the specific terms of the bill
making appropriations for the department of the interior for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1923, it will be necessary to discontinue the offices at Dickinson, Minot and Williston and to consolidate the records at Bismarck," says the letter of Mr. Spry.

Economy Move.

The consolidation plan was first inaugurated by the government by combining the offices of receiver and register into one office in the various land offices. Because of the decrease in business of the North Dakota offices,
due to settlement of lands, it has been
the policy of the government to reduce the expense of administration accordingly. The same plan is being used in Montana and other Northwest states. The drastic cuts made by the present Congress in its economy program, partly as a result of the budget system, has also had its part in the reduction of the land office forces.

Letters have been sent by the land
commissioner to Williston, Dickinson and Minot to furnish a statement of the records that can be shipped here.
The Bismarck office is ordered to report upon available space for taking care of the records. An inspector of the land office will come to Bismarck
soon to make a survey.

Federal Building Populated.

The federal building here is now
taken up largely with federal offices,
since Judge Miller has established federal court chambers here and a division office of the Internal Revenue department has been created. In addition there are offices of the Bureau of Animal Industry and the Public Health Service.

O. E. Anderson, of Bismarck, will assume charge of the land office here
April 9.

The 1920 statement of the land office showed that $1,044 acres of land are unappropriated and unreserved, open for settlement.

AMENDMENTS TO
4-POWER PACTS
ARE REJECTED

Senate Proceeds Rapidly Toward
Ratification of the Four-
Power Pact

Washington, March 24.—A long succession of proposed amendments and reservations to the four-power treaty were voted down one after another by the senate as it approached a final roll-call for ratification.

The first qualifying declaration to be voted down was an amendment by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, which would have pledged the treaty signatories against "any secret treaty arrangements or understandings with another power or powers
during the life of the treaty."

Those who voted against article 1
included Senator LaFollette.

Senator Robinson then offered and the senate rejected an amendment to article 2 pledging the signatories
against aggression.

DEMOCRAT OUT
FOR SENATOR

Grand Forks, N. D., March 24.—Arthur C. McEne of Larimore, N. D., a farmer, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator from North Dakota.

COMMERCE CLUB CAMPAIGN ON

Teams representing the Commercial club assembled at the club rooms at 9 o'clock this morning and began the annual campaign for memberships for the organization. It was expected that the main part of the drive for funds
would be completed during the day
by the various teams, although some of them might not be able to see all of the men on their lists.

STATE SEEKS IN MURDER TRIAL TO PROVE
INDIANA WOMAN "BLUEBEARD"

Mrs. Clara Carl (above), Robert Gibson, her first husband (left), and Waldo C. Gung, Hancock county prosecutor (right).

By NEA Service.

Greenfield, Ind., March 24.—This whole region is eagerly awaiting the trial of Mrs. Clara Carl on a charge of slaying her first husband in May.

Prosecutor Waldo C. Gung hopes to prove at that trial that Mrs. Carl is a modern woman bluebeard.

Gung will charge that Mrs. Carl killed her husband and father-in-law with slow poison with the sordid aim of gaining for herself their petty fortunes.

STRIKE PLANS
CONSIDERED BY
UNION LEADERS

Illinois President Declares Action in Calling a Strike is "Premature"

Cleveland, March 21.—Final plans
for the nation-wide strike of bituminous and anthracite miners on April 1 were considered today by the general policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America with indications at the opening of the meeting that union workers would press an united front despite any factional troubles.

Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners and opponent of International President, John L. Lewis, declared before the meeting that he would abide by committee decisions
adding: "That Illinois miners would strike and stay out until some of the fellows who are so keen for a strike holler to quit."

Mr. Lewis was prepared to ask the committee to approve his action in calling a strike, which action Mr. Farrington said was premature.

TWO TO SERVE
OUT SUSPENSIONS

New Orleans, March 23.—"Babe" Ruth and Bob Meusel, outfielders of the New York American League club, must serve out the suspensions placed on them last fall by Judge K. M. Landis for disobeying the rules of baseball.

Judge Landis gathered visiting newspaper men around him today during a game between New York and the New Orleans club, and in the presence of Colonel Jacob Ruppert of the New York club, said:

"There is nothing more to add."

"Does the suspension of last fall
stand as it is?" he was asked.

"Nothing more to add," said the judge as he turned to watch the game.

NORTH DAKOTA
NINTH STATE IN
AUTO OWNERSHIP

North Dakota is the ninth state
in the union in the number of automobiles owned in proportion to her population, according to comparisons of the Automotive Industries, received here.

While the state is 33rd in the number of cars, the compilation shows that there is one car for seven persons in the state. North Dakota is outranked in per capita ownership of automobiles only by six states—Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska, California, Kansas, Colorado, Oregon and Nevada, in order named.

There are 92,644 automobiles in the state, on the basis of the 1921
registration.

4 KNOWN DEAD
AS CLOUDBURST
STRIKES TOWN

Damage Estimated at $750,000
Caused in Burlington,
Kansas, by Flood

10 INCHES WATER FELL

Water at Crest Runs 10 to 12
Feet Through Streets
of Town

Burlington, Kan., March 24.—With one man and three women known dead and property damage estimated at $750,000 Burlington today was recovering from a cloudburst which last night flooded Rock Creek and swept down on the city without warning.

Ten inches of water fell last night
between 5 o'clock and midnight, sending torrents through the streets in the business section and automobiles were carried along. At the crest of the torrent ran 10 to 12 feet deep through the business section. About 25 homes were swept away. Much damage was done also to stock and crops in this district. Streets were piled high with debris.

Burlington, the county seat of Coffey county, has a population of about 3,000.

RAIDERS SHOOT
SEVEN MEMBERS
OF ONE FAMILY

Three Murders Also Reported as Killings Continue in Belfast

SEVEN DEATHS TODAY
Belfast, March 24.—(By The Associated Press)—Seven deaths
from violence occurred in Belfast
today.

A youth also was shot in the abdomen and was in a critical condition.

Belfast, March 24.—(By The Associated Press)—A band of men forced their way into the home of Owen Mac-Mahon, a saloon keeper, early this morning and shot seven members of the family. News of the raid has stirred the city.

McMahon and three of his sons
were killed outright, another son died
of wounds and two others are near death. The crime is thought to be in reprisal for the shooting of a number of special constables in May street
yesterday.

The raiders, who are reported to have worn uniforms, smashed the door of the home and rushed upstairs
where the occupants of the house
members of the family downstairs,
lined them up against the living room
wall and riddled them.

Three murders were reported from the Fermanagh-Tyrone border. The victims were Frank Kelly, Edward McLoughlin and William Cassidy. All were shot to death. It is believed the murders were in reprisal for the recent terrorism at Trillick.

City Official Shot
Belfast, March 24.—(By The A. P.)— Joseph Campbell, a Belfast city official was shot and killed by a sniper
this afternoon.

BONUS BILL TO GO TO SENATE

Washington, March 24.—Passed by the house late yesterday by a vote of 333 to 70, the soldiers' bonus
bill was made ready today
for the senate.

Confidence that the house bill
would meet with the general approval of former service men was expressed today by Hanford Mac-Nider, national commander of the American Legion. He declared that the measure had been passed
twice by the house and was now
"inevitable legislation."

4 CANDIDATES
IN WILTON RACE

Wilton, N. D., March 24.—The following candidates have announced
themselves, subject to the annual city election on April 3: G. W. Stewart,
mayor; E. C. Stocker, A. C. Wilde, Dr.
L. E. Nugent, aldermen. Their joint platform is announced as: "For a continued business administration, a clean city, economic expenditure of public finances and a city government run for the best interests of the entire community." All are seeking re-election.

Weather Forecast

For Bismarck and vicinity. Unsettled weather tonight and Sat., probably snow, not much change in temperature.

For North Dakota. Unsettled weather
tonight and Saturday, probably snow; not much change in temperature.

PROMISES ALIBI
FOR TEX RICKARD

New York, March 24.—Opening the defense of Tex Rickard, charged with criminally assaulting 15-year-old Sarah Schoenfeld, counsel for the sports promoter today told the jury that a perfect alibi would be proved for November 12, 1921, the day of the alleged offense.

Rickard's counsel denied that the promoter had ever gone motoring with Sarah Gasco, corroborating witness for the prosecution. The lawyer said his client knew nothing of the two girls except that Sarah had once come to Madison Square garden
to obtain his aid to release of Sarah's brother held in Milwaukee.

BISMARCK WILL MEET EGELAND
IN FIRST GAME

Drawings Held in Basketball Tournament at Fargo This Morning

STRONG TEAMS FAVORED

(Special to The Tribune)

Fargo, N. D., March 24.—Bismarck high school's first opponent in the state interscholastic basketball tournament will be Egeland. They will meet in the closing program of the first day of the tournament at 9 o'clock tonight.

The drawings, made early today,
follow: Fargo vs. Kenmare, 2 p. m.
today; Dickinson vs. Grand Forks,
3:30 p. m.; Minot vs. Valley City,
7:30 p. m.; Egeland vs. Bismarck, 9
p. m.

Semi-finals will be played Saturday morning, the winners of the afternoon games playing and winners of the evening games meeting. Should Bismarck win from Egeland, as expected, and Valley City win from Mi-not, as expected, Bismarck will be pitted against the Valley City team
Saturday morning in the semi-final.
Fargo is hoped to win over Kenmare
and will play either Dickinson or Grand Forks Saturday morning.

Fargo, Valley City and Bismarck
were fortunate in their drawings today, according to sports dopesters.
Dickinson has a tough opponent in Grand Forks. Grand Forks has been beaten by Fargo, and should the Forks team beat Dickinson Fargo
is favored to win over Grand Forks
and thus get into the finals Saturday night. Dopesters look to either Bismarck or Valley City to get in the final game.

A loving cup is offered to the winning team and a banner to the runner-up. In addition each member of the winning team will receive a gold watch fob. The cup and fobs are on display at the Hagen-Newton jewelry company. Following the final game Saturday night the visiting players and coaches will be guests of the Fargo Commercial club at an informal affair to be staged in the Commercial club rooms. The Agricultural college band will play at both evening
contests tonight and tomorrow.

BOND MEN TO VISIT CITIES

Will Make Thorough Inspection
of N. D. Possibilities

Five representatives of New York
bond houses, who conferred today with state officials, will spend ten days in the state and may visit several cities,
investigating general conditions upon which to make a general report upon North Dakota to their institutions as a field for investment.

Voluminous statistics were presented to the bond men by Governor Nes-tos and other state officials to show that North Dakota is one of the soundest places for investment in the entire country. A representative of Chicago and Cincinnati bond houses also is expected to visit the statehouse on the same mission.

REICHERT NOT TO RUN

Carrington, N. D., March 24.—J. C. W.
Reichert, representative from this
district in the last legislature, stated
while in the city that he would not
be a candidate for the position this year. He stated that his time would be occupied with affairs as head of
the Equity Packing plant and that he did not want any political matters to
interfere with his work there.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS WILL VISIT
MEDORA, PLAN SHRINE TO ROOSEVELT

A caravan of newspaper publishers will visit Medora next July 11 and will erect a tablet or monument to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt according to information received by the North Dakota Good Roads Magazine, from H. C. Hotelling, executive field
secretary of the National Editorial association. W. E. Holbein announced today.

Several hundred publishers are expected to make the trip, by automobile or train to Missoula,
Mont., for the annual convention of the organization. Their program calls for arrival in Medora at 11
a. m., July 11.

REFERENCE TO "LITTLE SOVIET" IN LEAGUE BRINGS ATTACK ON FLOOR;
CONVENTION SUPREME, SAYS MILLER

Liederbach Faction of Executive Committee in Strong Position
and Wins One of Preliminary Battles in the Nonpartisan
State Convention, But Chairman is Vigorously Assailed During the Reading of His Report of Committee Activities.

NO NOMINATIONS IN PROSPECT
Fargo, March 24.—Prospects for nomination of a state ticket seemed still far away this afternoon in the state convention of the N. P. league. Most of the time today has been taken up by the reading of the report of the state executive committee. This was marked by tilts between delegates and the leader.
It is hoped to wind up the convention early tomorrow.

Fargo, March 24.—The present league convention
while it is in session is the final court of appeal and can decide all questions, according to a ruling of Chairman
J. C. Miller.

The question came up over the question of electing a new executive committee. Asked to decide which had authority over certain classes of questions, Mr. Miller held that during the time of the convention it was supreme on all questions.

Fargo, March 24.—"Let's Go," the battle cry of the American doughboy was heard here as the impatient delegates to the North Dakota Nonpartisan league convention started their second day's work. In spite of the impatience manifested by the delegates a motion to cut debate failed and another to allow but one hour for the report of the executive committee was voted down almost unanimously.

LOANS TO BE HANDLED SAME
AS LAST YEAR

Blanks Will Be in Hands of County Agents or County
Auditors Next Week

LIMITATIONS PLACED

Government seed loans will be handled in substantially the same manner as last year, C. M. Warburton, of the United States Department of Agriculture, in Bismarck today, said.

The amount of the fund to be loaned is $1,500,000. The maximum loan to one person is $300, fixed in the bill,
and department of agricultural regulations fix $1.50 per acre as the maximum loan.

Loans may be made in drought-stricken regions. Mr. Warburton said that the line followed last year in North Dakota probably would be followed—all territory west of a line
drawn through Rolette, Sheridan, Kidder counties and including Emmons,
but not McIntosh or Logan counties.
It is possible that part of western Stutsman county may be included.
Loans also will be made in eastern and northern Montana and a few loans
in Washington and Oregon.

The bill did not actually become a law until last Monday. Regulations were prepared for printing immediately. Mr. Warburton expects them to reach Grand Forks, the chief distribution office by Monday, March 27.

Application blanks will be forwarded to county agents. In counties where there is no agent the blanks probably will be forwarded to the county auditors or a special representative. Burleigh county blanks probably will be sent to the county auditor.

No applications can be made until sometime next week when blanks are on hand. Notice of their receipt will be given in the various localities.
Loans will not be made later than May 1.

SUBMIT BRIEFS
IN RISK CASES

Briefs will be submitted to District
Judge J. A. Coffey in the cases of the Workmen's Compensation Bureau
against the Beulah Coal Mining company and the Bismarck Gas company,
in which the bureau seeks to enforce payment of premiums. A third case is being submitted, against the Hughes Electric company. The entire question of the power of the bureau to requirement payment of premiums in the manner in which they have collected
them is to be tested.

REICHERT NOT TO RUN

Carrington, N. D., March 24.—J. C. W.
Reichert, representative from this
district in the last legislature, stated
while in the city that he would not
be a candidate for the position this
year. He stated that his time would
be occupied with affairs as head of
the Equity Packing plant and that he
did not want any political matters to
interfere with his work there.

with the Medora Commercial club
and C. B. Olsen, owner of Peaceful Valley ranch, who have already begun arrangements to show the visitors a real sample of western hospitality. An effort will be made to have the party
visit the petrified forest and the Roosevelt ranch north of the forest, while they are at Medora.
This seems to be a splendid opportunity for the advocates of the proposed Roosevelt National Park
in the Bad Lands to make some medicine as the National Editorial association is composed of some of the more prominent newspaper men of the United States,"
said Mr. Holbein.

Chairman A. A. Liederbach commenced the reading of the minutes of the meetings of the executive committee, beginning with March 13, 1921.
This retold the troubles of the executive committee in running the Courier-News through the period while George Totten, Jr., was an employee and constituted what Chairman Lieder-bach termed "the little soviet."

Asked from the floor to tell who constituted the "little soviet," Mr.
Liederbach named George Totten, Jr.
and William Tanner, who is listed in the records of the league as "Billiean."
Pressed as to whom he considered
was back of the "little soviet," Mr.
Liederbach named William Lemke
and the minority members of the executive committee.

Challenged From the Floor.

Challenged from the floor by Walter Maddock to name the minority members of the executive committee as being members or supporters of the "little soviet" Mr. Liederbach declined to use the names.

For the information of the delegates
Mr. Liederbach produced the carbon copies of letters addressed to William Lemke and with the initials of Mr.
Totten on them in which the position of publisher of the Courier-News is asked by the writer, alleging that the paper suffered in comparison with other papers because of a lack of centralized authority.

When challenged by a woman delegate to produce proof that George Totten, Jr., was the author of the letters Mr. Liederbach answered that the initials in the corner coupled with those of the stenographer were the only indication of the writer's identity.

The minutes read by the chairman
covered the period in which the executive committee was attempting to gain control of the Courier-News from the committee of the National Non-partisan committee and one of the letters introduced the fact that for sometime the control of the editorial policy
was directed from outside the state.
It also covered the period of Mr. Tot-ten's connection with the paper.

The long drawn out reading of the minutes was listened to attentively by the delegates. Mrs. Howard Wood, former president of the Woman's Nonpartisan league clubs of the state and a former representative of the league
women as an ex-officio member of the state committee, led the attack from the floor on the statements in the minutes. Both Mrs. Wood and Liederbach scored at times as their remarks
caught the fancy of the delegates.

Delay in getting to the actual settlement of questions is wearing upon the nerves of the delegates and every effort will be made to conclude the business of the session by tonight or at least by an hour that will allow the delegates to leave here by the 6 o'clock train Saturday morning. Failure to adjourn at this time will mean that many of the delegates will have to wait over until Monday.

The league convention opened at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the singing of America, followed by prayer by Rev. J. D. Runsvold, of the First Lutheran church, after Chairman A.
A. Liederbach of the state executive committee had called the meeting to order.

Nominations for temporary chairman were in order. State Senator Ralph Ingerson and J. C. Miller, of Bottineau, formerly representative in the house, were nominated. Miller was chosen, 124 to 100. Miller was regarded as unbiased in the fight between the two league factions. Later Miller was named permanent chairman.

Mrs. George Brastrup, of Griggs county, was named secretary, and a credentials committee consisting of
C. F. Baker of Renville, Ingerson and
F. A. Vogel of McLean, named.

The number of delegates entitled to vote was increased over the number set by the Liederbach state committee, when a motion carried that representation from each county be based on the vote cast at the recall election last fall and not on the vote
for Governor Frazier in the preced-

OBERAMMERGAU PREPARING FOR PASSION PLAY

First Regular Performances will Be Given on Sunday,
May 14th

35,000 APPLY FOR SEATS

Oberammergau, Bavaria, March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Preparations for the first post-war revival of the Passion Play have progressed sufficiently to enable the committee of elders to announce that the final dress rehearsals will be held May 9. The first regular performances will be given on May 14.

Thirty-five thousand applications for seats and sleeping accommodations already have been received from abroad, and while the local management has not yet received indications as to the extent to which Germans will patronize the productions of the play, it assumes that German attendance will be more than quadruple the foreign patronage.

Anticipating an unusual influx of visitors in July and August, the management has decided to give Wednesday performances during these months. Economic conditions have obliged the village elders considerably to curtail the production of the play as to the solvency of the accommodations for thousands of visitors for whom the comforts and conveniences of travel before the war are now not available.

The conditions under which the play will be revived this year have shocked the rural simplicity of these peasant play producers and, while determined to prevent the sacred enterprise from becoming basely commercialized they are now beginning to realize that the war's aftermath has produced an economic environment with which they are compelled to reckon.

The municipality of Oberammergau has persistently rejected a proposition that it levy a tax on foreign visitors which, it declared, would be out of harmony with the origin and traditions of the play and also would conflict with the purpose of the present revival which is regarded as one way of achieving reconciliation between Germany and the other nations. The town fathers, however, announce that they have been forced to assume a considerable initial expense in preparing for the production, reconstructing the theater which will seat 4,000 spectators and in providing costumes.

Oberammergau is sadly in need of municipal improvements to give the village a presentable attire when the first guests arrive. A new church bell alone called for an outlay of 170,000 marks while repaving of the main streets has cost almost as much.

All told, this hamlet which, in peace times, had a budget of insignificant proportions already has staked its municipal existence on the outcome of this year's productions.

Oberammergau will be able to furnish accommodations for 1,000 visitors who prefer to sleep in the village in order to be on hand for the early opening performance. Unterammergau, close by, is arranging quarters for 1,500 others, while the well known convent at Ettal, half an hour's travel distant, is preparing to install 500 emergency cots. Thus the management of the play believes that it will be amply able to accommodate the overflow of visitors.

The problems of feeding the guests is more intricate and to solve it the elders have appointed a commissary department which will co-operate with the Bavarian Food Controller and the co-operative society of Regensburg. Stern rebuke awaits the profiteer who should attempt to conduct a lunch stand here in defiance of established regulations or violate fixed price schedules. In fact, the legitimate dealers and speculators of all categories are being emphatically informed that Oberammergau is bound to prove disappointing to them if they regard it as an opportunity for a quick clean-up.

Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys rid the system of acids and waste that cause lameness, backache, sore muscles, swollen joints and rheumatic pains. Tonic in effect, quick in action.

Money Back If "Gets-It" Fails

Nothing is so utterly needless as the suffering from itching, painful corns. It is as easy to peel off a corn as to skin a banana. "Gets-It" with "Gets-It" and the corn is gone. For hard corns, soft corns, any corn or callus. All pain stops instantly and the corn proceeds to loosen and soon can be lifted right off. Your money cheerfully refunded if it fails. But it never fails. Costs but a trifle. E. J. # YOUNG PEOPLE SEARCHING FOR TOTAL FREEDOM

Yasnaya, Polyana, Russia, Mar. 23.—In their search for total freedom, the community of young people established here last September with the intention of showing the world that the ideal life planned by Tolstoi is possible has removed to Serpukhov, near Moscow.

There they have taken up a new tract of land of which there is plenty since the flight or death of the old landlords and the refusal of peasants to cultivate tracts of land more than sufficient for their immediate needs. An outbreak of typhus in the village hastened their departure.

North Dakota Makes Report for National Organization

Grand Forks, N. D., March 23.—Cost of labor, materials, transportation and construction in North Dakota has materially decreased during the last year, according to W. L. Forbes, of Gilby, chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the North Dakota Bankers' association, who has been preparing reports on the economic conditions in the state at the request of the American Bankers' association.

In this report, Mr. Forbes contends that railway rates are at present too high and that a reduction would result in a greatly increased movement of freight. In some cases, he declares, that rates are actually prohibitive. On potatoes, for example, he maintains that the rate should be reduced 40 per cent.

The report also expresses the opinion that taxation costs will be reduced soon, and that the reduction in wholesale and retail prices has not been as great as it should be.

In connection with the crop prospects, Mr. Forbes looks for a substantial reduction this year in the wheat and flax acreage, as a result of the wave of diversification, which, he says is sweeping over the state. The great increase he says, will be in the potato acreage.

SEED GRAIN ORDERS ISSUED

Washburn, N. D., March 23.—To facilitate the purchase and distribution of seed grain to needy farmers, the McLean county commissioners have authorized the county auditor to issue orders in favor of all persons whose applications for seed grain have been favorably passed upon for such amount of feed or seed grain as is called for by said application as approved by the commissioners. The price of grain or feed is to be agreed upon by the applicant and the person or firm furnishing the same and payment therefor to be made by the county treasurer direct to the person or firm furnishing the grain upon the written receipt of the applicant receiving it.

POTATO GRADE CHANGE TALK AT CONFERENCE

Problems Vital to Entire Industry Will Be Discussed at Grand Forks Meeting

GOPHER SUGGESTIONS

Fargo, March 23.—Suggestions for changes in the federal system of grading and inspecting potatoes, that will, if made effective, have a vital and far-reaching effect on the potato industry of the entire northwest, will be made at the conference of potato growers to be held at Grand Forks, April 1, by Hugh J. Hughes, Minnesota director of markets.

Details of the Minnesota agricultural department move for more complete federal grades in potatoes as set forth in a letter from Hugh J. Hughes, Minnesota director of markets, to the North Dakota extension department, were made public today by John W. Haw, of the North Dakota agricultural college.

The letter is an invitation to the conference at Grand Forks, sent to conference is called by the Minnesota South Dakota, Colorado, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Michigan and other potato states, according to Mr. Haw. The conference is called by the Minnesota department in connection with the North Dakota extension division. A preliminary meeting has been set for the preceding day for North Dakota growers.

Minnesota agricultural men find objection to the proposed new federal grade on the ground that they will increase the tolerance in U. S. No. 1 grade from 6 to 10 per cent, which, it is claimed, will penalize the shipper who sends better potatoes and bring lower prices in small shipping centers.

Minnesota suggestions.

Minnesota will make the following suggestions at the conference, according to the letter:

That new grades proposed by the federal government, particularly the increase of tolerance in U. S. No. 1 and the grade known as U. S. combination No. 1 and 2 are unsatisfactory.

Rub on Sore Throat

Musterole relieves sore throat quickly. Made with oil of mustard, it is a clean white ointment that will not burn or blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Just spread it on with your fingers. Gently but surely it penetrates to the sore spot and draws out the pain. Get Musterole at your drug store today. 35¢ 65¢ in jars and tubes; hospital size, $3. BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

It will suggest a definite series of grades consisting of three and possibly four grades as follows: First, potatoes having a tolerance of 5 to 6 or 10 to 12; potatoes below 10 or 12 tolerance, but above 15 or 18 and a grade that will identify those falling outside these classifications.

This is Its Right to Lead

It is not merely that for six years Hudson has outsold all fine cars. True, that is recognition of its worth.

But quality, fine performance and reliability do not necessarily mean leadership. They are expected of high-priced cars.

Leadership belongs to that car which gives these wanted qualities in the fullest measure, and with a price advantage that is so obvious as to make denial futile.

That has been Hudson's position, ever since the introduction of the Super-Six. Today at $1695 Hudson offers the greatest Super-Six, and the greatest value in its history.

Comparison is the Fairest Test

Set it side by side with any car, irrespective of price and judge. That's the way to buy a car. See what each has to offer at its price before you make up your mind. It's the only way to be sure you're getting just what you want—and it surely is the only way to appreciate how much you get in this seven-passenger Studebaker at its price of $1785.

And it's a test that Studebaker is eager to have you make. For when you stand this new BIG-SIX side by side with other cars, you'll find it gives you all, in quality of material and workmanship, that you can get in any car regardless of price—and infinitely more than you can get in any car at the same price.

On every hand the thousands of BIG-SIX owners have found in this car everything they considered essential to complete motoring satisfaction. This is another reason why Studebaker is the world's largest builder of six cylinder cars.

A CORRECTION

Referring to the article appearing over my name in the column entitled, "Why a Commercial Club," published in The Tribune of March 23rd, I desire to state that while I gave permission to its being published over my name, I did so, without knowing that it contained any reflection upon trade unions. It was my thought that the quotations from the former Secretary of the New York Organization advocated only the maintenance of an active Commercial Club, and with this idea I am in hearty accord. Personally, I believe the trade unions have as great a mission to perform as a Commercial Club and that such organizations should work hand in hand for the advantage of the members of both and the community in which they function.

I am grateful to my friends for calling my attention to this article, thereby giving me an opportunity to correct the statement insofar as it refers to trade unions.

It may be added that upon being informed of my intention to publish this correction, Mr. Cox, President of the Commercial Club, authorized me to state on behalf of the Board of Directors that the ideas which I have hereinbefore expressed with respect to trade unions coincide completely with the view of the Board, and that the Board of Directors regret exceedingly that such a statement should appear in any way, in an advertisement sponsored by the Commercial Club. The sentiment expressed in the statement referred to does in no way reflect the attitude of the Bismarck Commercial Club toward trade unions.

Poor Paint Worse Than No Paint

Poor paint is unprofitable, because it doesn't protect and preserve your buildings as it should—is certain to give unsatisfactory results.

You would actually be better off not to paint at all than to paint with poor paint.

First, because you would not be out the cost of the job.

Second, because a surface that has once been painted with poor paint is not in a condition to be painted over with good paint until the old paint has been burned or scraped off in order to allow the good paint to take hold. That's an expensive job.

Don't forget that it takes just as much time and effort to work with poor paint as it does with good paint. What's the use of going to all this trouble and expense, if you don't get the protection that you should from your investment in painting?

Library Drive Is Started For Over 10,000 New Books

Ms Mary E. Downey, state librarian, met the teachers at the high school last evening and talked to them on the library book drive. The drive is beginning this week and is to last ten days, and every school child is to participate.

The drive will take the form of a contest and tempting prizes have been offered to those who collect the largest number of books. The student getting the largest number of books will receive a prize of $7, the second prize is $5 and the third prize is $3. The winning class of the winning grade will be given a half holiday.

The books will be given to the public library of the city and any duplicates will be taken care of by the state library commission. Bismarck is the first city in the state in which the drive is being made. It is expected that between 10,000 and 20,000 books will be donated here. Two and one-half times the population is the usual number donated.

The teachers will keep a record on the black board and by posting the results each day will help to keep up the interest.

It is especially hoped that the school children will take an active interest in the books, and this has been mentioned as a splendid way to teach to children the value of books.

"Free schools and free libraries are an outstanding feature of America, education of the masses is the keynote of Americanism and the love of books is a fundamental element in education," said a representative of the state library today, "proving that by teaching the school children the value of books, we are furthering the cause of Americanism."

Similar drives will be held in cities all over the state and thousands of books will be distributed among the libraries of the state.

Methodist Society Celebrated 50th Anniversary

More than 200 people gathered at the Methodist Episcopal church last night to celebrate "Founders Day," the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society. After the supper had been served the president, Mrs. S. G. Severson, stated the object of the meeting, introducing Mrs. George Register, program leader.

A procession of Little Light Bearers came first inspiring hope for the future of missions. A group of King's Heralds in costume represented the different peoples in the mission fields and effectively presented their lines of work.

The Standard Bearers, dressed in white middie suits made a very pleasing and picturesque presentation of their branch. Two group songs were given and a very touching demonstration of the need of medical missionaries was given by Misses Dorothy Landers, Mabel Nathan and Una Frazier. This was completed by a vocal solo by Miss Stella Finwall with Miss Versie Frazier at the piano.

For the Missionary Society, Mrs. C. W. Moses spoke of the interdenominational educational program and its great need today in view of the menacing activity of the Mohammedan world and the fact that 96 women out of every 100 in non-Christian lands can neither read nor write any language. Mrs. W. C. Cushman made a strong plea for tithing the foundation upon which the whole Christian structure rests. Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Dunn delighted the audience with a very pleasing duet, accompanied by Miss Hoffman.

The Retirement fund was explained by Mrs. George Wallace. Its great service to the aged missionaries who cannot save when facing such urgent need on the mission fields. Mrs. Wallace said a Memorial membership had been taken out in this fund by the local society in honor of Mrs. A. S. Hoffman, one of its most devoted and beloved members.

"Open the Gates of the Temple" was beautifully rendered by Mr. William Noggle. The program was completed by two very instructive demonstrations illustrating the work of the organization at home and a glimpse into the worker's life abroad put on by several members of the Missionary society.

CORN BELT HOG RAPIDLY COMING TO THE FRONT

Advance In Market Past Two Months Brought $30,000,000 Extra Hog Money

DEPRESSION FADING AWAY

Chicago, March 24.—The corn belt hog, says a report to the Chicago Live Stock Exchange covering the first two months of 1922, "has rooted his way out of the mire of depression."

"During January and February," says the report signed by T. W. Jerrens, hog marketing expert and member of the board of directors, "an extra $30,000,000 for hogs was paid to farmers as a result of the almost daily advance in market values."

"Before the new year few feeders had any confidence in an immediate price upturn. The most optimistic could not foresee a market higher than $8 during the winter packing season, while others thought prices would be from $6 to $7."

"The average hog brought $6.53 per hundred pounds on the Chicago market December 15. By January 12 the price was $8, by February 16 it was $10, and the month closed with a high of $11.04. Coincident with price increase there was an increase in the average weight per head. Commission men representing the producers cultivated every possible source of demand and brought its full weight to bear in the open competitive market, thus proving a tremendous factor in the establishment of higher prices."

"When hog prices swung upward and producers began realizing great returns, the country banks improved and a favorable change in general business conditions developed rapidly. Money became available to remove the drag on this cattle from the markets and put it back to work eating up the farm surplus of corn. This improved the demand for coarse grains and aided in the grain market advance."

"On all sides can be felt the change in economic conditions. There can be no doubt that the days of serious depression are over and that the lowly porker has once again 'proven his right to the title of the gentleman who pays the rent.'"

FRENCH AND SYRIANS ON GOOD TERMS

Governor of Beirut Says French Pulled Them Out of Grave and Gave Them Life

Beirut, Syria, Mar. 24.—France contemplates granting to Syria a certain amount of autonomy which will qualify the country to become a member of the League of Nations, it is reported here.

Rumor adds that France will recognize the existence of Syria as a sovereign state and will agree also to the constitution of a Syrian parliament and the establishment of a Syrian ministry.

"The French have made good," is the expression one hears everywhere in this country, where during the great war Jamal Pasha's reign of terror culminated in the hanging in Damascus of the leading 400 Arabs.

"In three years France has not only brought security but also prosperity to us," said the governor of Beirut when asked his opinion as to the French mandate. "The Turks left us dead and buried and the French simply pulled us out of the grave and gave us life. We owe all to them."

Marshal Gouraud has done wonders for this land. Beginning with the industrial exhibit which gave a great impetus to commerce and industry, he followed it up by improving communications and the customs which he found in a disorganized state. All the railways destroyed during the war by the Germans were rebuilt. New ones were also constructed, establishing connections between many large cities and towns. The custom house has become a model of efficiency.

Perhaps the two outstanding innovations introduced in the land are the aerial mail and the wireless station built near Beirut. The former is facilitating the transport of important commercial correspondence while the latter is communicating directly with European countries, thus removing the age-long dependency of Syria on the British cables of Egypt.

As regards education Syria has also made great strides under the mandate. Aside from the hundreds of new primary and secondary schools scattered throughout the country two universities, one in Beirut and one in Damascus, have been established. In addition 20 students of all creeds are chosen each year and sent to France to pursue higher education.

YOU'LL CRY AND LAUGH AT "PAY DAY," CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S LATEST

Charlie Chaplin caught napping in the bath tub by his wife in "pay day," his latest. Other scenes sketched by artist E. R. Higgins at a review of the picture.

BY JAMES W. DEAN

New York, March 24.—The high light of "The Kid" and "Pay Day," his latest. That high point is the pathos of poverty.

Chaplin is the greatest tragedian on the screen today. That is why he is the greatest comedian. He creates laughs through the psychology of contrasts.

Chaplin is writing his own film stories. He is expressing himself in them. That self is a hyper-sensitive soul that reacts positively and quickly to the sorry plight of another.

I have seen tears start in Chaplin's eyes as he stooped to chuck a baby under the chin. The baby was in the visitors' room at Sing Sing. The tragic-comedian had gone there to rub elbows with the prisoners.

This reaction to misfortune is evidenced throughout his account of his recent trip to Europe and the scenes of his childhood. The drab side of life engaged him more than the glittering.

"Pay Day" has been heralded as a return to the old style of his slapstick comedies. Chaplin will never make a comedy such as he was making five years ago. He is a different man. He has achieved wealth and fame. He can now devote himself to doing what it pleases his whim to do.

And that whim, as I see it evidenced in "The Kid" and "Pay Day," is to call the attention of the fortunate to the unfortunate and to make the unfortunate, that great legion of us, laugh at themselves.

By its very title "Pay Day" proclaims itself as a document for the laboring man.

The film opens with Chaplin late at his task with pick and shovel. He brings a lily to placate the boss.

Chaplin doesn't shovel enough dirt, so he is transferred to the brick-laying squad. If you have ever tried to catch bricks when they're thrown to you, you'll know what a ludicrous spectacle Charlie is in this.

The foreman's daughter is the object of Charlie's attention. His love-making proves unsuccessful, but he succeeds in getting the boss' lunch in devious and comic ways.

Charlie walks off the job with the whistle before he realizes that it is pay day. He gets back in time for his envelope, but finds his pay isn't just right. When he asks the boss about it the latter agrees with him—and takes some of it away from Charlie.

Charlie hides a bill in his hat band. His wife catches him at that. Later when she is taking the money from him she finds Charlie picks his wages from her purse and sneaks off to the bachelor's club.

Charlie sings tenor in a whiskey-sour quartet. (You can tell Charlie is singing tenor by the grimaces he makes.) Rain puts a stop to the concert. A fellow inebriate had asked Charlie to hold his overcoat. He walks away without it when Charlie pulls up his undercoat collar.

When the rain starts, Charlie gets one arm in the sleeve of his newly acquired overcoat and one into the sleeve of another man's coat. But, tuned to the big fellow, Chaplin is dragged down the street.

When the rain starts afresh Chaplin helps another fellow put up his umbrella. He hands his cane to the other man and retains the umbrella. Charlie arrives home at daybreak. He oils his shoes so they will not squeak and then tiptoes to his bed. He has just taken off his coat when the alarm rings. As his wife awakens he puts on his coat, stretches, yawns and looks out the window to see how goes the weather.

Still craving sleep he goes to the bathroom and climbs into a bathtub filled with clothes. The clothes are floating on top of the water. Once wet, Charlie turns on the hot water so he will be comfortable and goes to sleep. That doesn't last long. His wife finds him and sends him out to work.

THE CAST

Sydney Chaplin, Charlie's brother, appears as "a mere friend" in the cast. He is a pantomimist of no mean ability. Mack Swain, the giant roughneck, is the boss Edna Purviance, Chaplin's leading woman for a number of years and now to be starred in her own right, is the boss' daughter. Phyllis Allen is the wife whose size dwarfs the hero.

CHAPLIN'S SCHEDULE

Chaplin made only two comedies last year, "The Kid" and "The Idle Class." Although "Pay Day," is only 1,900 feet long, requiring 22 minutes to run almost seven months were spent in its production.

"If I had to make pictures today just on a schedule I should feel a cog in the huge machine of production," says Chaplin. "The fact that I am able to express ideas on the screen as they come to me, that I am able to produce in accordance with my ideas as to how things should be produced, has given me the impetus to do my best—even though it takes time."

"It is the life of the artist and brings with it the responsibility of creating artistic work. Whether my pictures conform to such standards is something that the public will have to judge for itself."

Chaplin has one more comedy to make under his first National contract.

Daylight Saving Occupies Attention Of French People

Paris, March 23.—Town and country are waging a battle in France to determine whether daylight-saving time shall be used here next summer.

Summertime has proved so popular to the townsmen that the decision of the members of the Senate to suppress it has raised a storm of protest and every effort is being made to bring pressure to bear on the Chamber of Deputies to revise the decision of the Upper House.

Leading newspapers are taking part in the campaign for summer time. They contend that the great interest taken in athletic sports of all kinds during the last three years is due almost entirely to this measure, which enables the worker in the office or the factory to get exercise in the open after his day's labor.

L'Auto, a daily newspaper devoted to athletics, is calling upon its readers to flood their representatives in parliament with petitions for the maintenance of summer time.

In the country, however, summer time seems to have proved distasteful, and the farmers and land laborers are just as obstinate in their determination to suppress it. Representing a large part of the electorate, they also bring pressure to bear on the members of parliament. Each day argument grows hotter and hotter. Versailles Treaty, Washington, Genoa, reparations, are often secondary to this great controversy, summer time or no summer time.

6,000,000 DIED IN RUSSIA FROM TYPHUS IN 1919

One City of 200,000 Lost 45,000. This Year Will Be as Bad, It Is Prophesied

DISEASE IS GENERAL

Washington, March 24.—Tangled heaps of frozen corpses, some attacked by starved dogs, sickness, dirt and cold in the Volga Valley are described to Secretary Hoover in a nightmare picture of the famine districts of Soviet Russia drawn by Dr. Thomas H. Dickinson, of the American Relief Administration, in a special report on conditions there.

Dr. Dickinson made a month's tour of the Volga Valley and the foothills of the Urals, traveling 4,000 miles by rail, auto and sledge, inspecting 150 villages on the snow covered steppes. In his report to Mr. Hoover, Dr. Dickinson gave the bare and gruesome details of his observations.

"Losses from famine in Soviet Russia," he said, "come under the heads of emigration, disease and death. Emigration from the villages now rises to about 30 per cent. Houses are deserted, not a dog, cat or pig left, with snow breaking through the roofs and windows. Smoke comes from the chimneys of not more than half the houses. Traveling on the roads one comes across pathetic caravans, father, mother, grandparents and samovar. When camel or horse falls sick they leave him to die on the open plain. Sick persons sit on top of the sledges and are taken to town to die."

"On sleds everywhere, from Poland to the Urals are freight cars crowded with refugees. The government has not the locomotives to carry them so they are left to starve."

"Disease is general. Swollen bellies of children are so common as to no longer excite remark. The characteristic expression of childhood in Russia is that of a person 'sore at life.' I have learned to dread going into a room full of children. They all look up at me accusingly, bitterly, as if I had done it. They are borne with resentment in their hearts."

"Diseases are well distributed between summer and winter. Last summer, cholera, this winter typhus. Russia lost 6,000,000 dead of typhus in 1919. One city of 200,000 lost 45,000. This year will be as bad."

Buried in Wagon Load.

"So many are already dying that they are burying them in wagon loads. They take off the clothes of the dead, throw them into boxes, put snow on the bodies to freeze them, then transport them in piles to the cemetery. There, twice a week, they are thrown into great holes, crosswise, packed closely. Dogs have become a menace and attack piles of bodies in droves and dig into graves. Dead children, starved to death are left outside in open ways in piles, covered with rags until they can be hauled away."

From his notes Dr. Dickinson describes a burial ground near Samara, where the dead, gnawed by dogs, were piled in frozen mounds until thrown into great excavations.

"There were three great holes," he continued, "ten by twenty feet and eighteen feet deep. Around these were piles of frozen naked bodies, men, women and children who had died of typhus and hunger. Dogs had been at some bodies and these were bloody. The dogs were driven away, all terribly emaciated and contorted into all shapes of grotesque agony."

"As one pees the lopsided houses of the Russian villages, the gnarled, skin clad bones of the famine corpses, one sees the dominant motifs of the new Russian art. There was an unreality about these corpses that made it seem appropriate to discuss anything in their presence, cabarets, soda-water, futuristic verse."

"In piles they were badly tangled up and had to be released like stiff puzzles. Dropped into the graves they made noises like wooden things of the same weight and shape. They had been men, women and children. About fifty come every day."

The psychological factor of relief work among these distressing conditions, Dr. Dickinson declared, was a factor to be considered. As a rule, he explained, the relief agents work alone and the psychological effect of conditions around them is worth as serious

Wife Doing Good Work

"I have been bad off with stomach and liver trouble and bloating for many years. No doctors or medicine helped me. On the advice of my druggist I bought a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy and I don't want to miss a single dose. It has given me more benefit than all the medicine I have ever taken. I feel I am doing good to recommend it to others."

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does well to convince or money refunded.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babies in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free

is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people consideration as in arctic exploration or in jungle travel.

When a relief agent starts to convey a load of food, Dr. Dickinson reported, he says good-bye to his friends for ten days, takes blankets, grub, lives in a box car and "takes his luck with bugs and bandits." Transportation, the key to relief, he declared was almost lost.

Are No Rail Lines

"There are no rail lines except crazy narrow-gauge spurs set in some time past by some special interest to reach a town or a mining camp," he said. "To get from Samara to Kazan, 400 versts, you have to go to Moscow and back 2,000 versts. Same with other cities in the Valley. I have seen an American boy stagger in an American Relief Administration local headquarters after four days in a box car in which he had traveled 100 versts."

"For north and south transportation there are no resources but sledges. Under some conditions these can do up to twenty versts a day. Roads disappear under drifts. Country takes on appearance of the arctic without landmarks. Horses can drag their loads only three days a week. A week's provision for a horse is worth as much as a horse. The result is starving people who have horses are trading them for grain."

"People also are trading agricultural machinery for grain; this is bad on next year's crop. The number of horses over the entire area is but one third of last spring; about one tenth normal. Cattle and sheep are the same."

"Russian peasants, Dr. Dickinson reported, are living on bread made out of anything that can be baked and eaten."

"In late September and October," he said, "peasants began to live on libeda, a weed that grows in the wheat and is threshed with the wheat, on clay bread, dung bread, bread from bark and leaves and sawdust, and sunflower seed husks."

ple want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way, by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

In remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-ounce bottles of my Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are constipated now and then, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. Ask for your free bottle today, simply sending name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 514 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Do not postpone this.

GIDEONS WILL MEET IN FARGO

Fargo, March 24.—Plans are all completed for the coming state convention of the Gideons on Saturday and Sunday, March 25 and 26 at Fargo. A large delegation is expected from the different camps in the state as well as a number from outside states.

The meetings of the organization are open to all who wish to attend, and any traveling men in the state who are interested in the Gideons and their work, are especially invited to attend both the business sessions and the banquet on Saturday evening. The attendance of Buster Brown of Oshkosh, is assured. He is a great song leader and will have charge of the music during the convention and during the services on Sunday.

You don't have to coax big and little folks to eat Kellogg's Corn Flakes

Just as soon as you serve Kellogg's you'll note fussy and faded appetites getting mighty sharp; you'll find big bowls being handed back for "just a few more Kellogg's, mother—they're wonderful!"

And, that'll make you glad, for Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a great speed-start for the day's doings! They make for health and happy digestions! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough, but always joyously crisp!

Kellogg's—the original Corn Flakes—will be a revelation to your taste if you have been eating imitations! For your own enjoyment, do this—compare the big, sunny-brown Kellogg's Corn Flakes with other "corn flakes." Eat some of Kellogg's—then try the imitations! You'll realize then why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the largest and fastest selling cereal in the whole world!

Do more than ask for "corn flakes." Insist upon KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package! My, but it's worth while!

GETTING THE BEST TEACHERS

D. R. Poole, Canadian specialist on boy work, when in Bismarck stressed the necessity of exercising the greatest care in the selection of school teachers. Recently when the Rotary clubs of Canada held an educational conference at Winnipeg, experts gathered from the four corners of the globe were a unit on the vital need of securing men and women of the greatest moral and intellectual attainments.

The employment problem is the hardest one that confronts a school board. It is impossible to get into personal contact with the applicants and the recommendations are more or less formal in nature.

It is reported that a very large percentage of Bismarck teachers will resign this fall and new ones will be selected to take their places. Women's clubs and civic bodies could perform no better function than to cooperate with the school board on the matter of securing the best talent for the Bismarck schools.

Important resignations are to be announced in the executive force of the schools in the near future and if there ever was a time to strengthen the personnel of the teaching staff in Bismarck that occasion is here now.

A school board is merely representative of the parents who have children in the schools and of the taxpayers who must furnish the funds and unless citizens generally show an interest in the administration of school matters, there will be an indifferent and inefficient administration of the people's business.

The Tribune would like to receive short letters or comments from parents upon Bismarck's school system—its good points as well as any suggestions for betterment. Names should be signed to these communications, but will be withheld from publication if so desired. Criticism should be constructive and not petty or personal. Where there is occasion for praise, credit should not be withheld.

A general symposium through the press on the administration of school affairs in Bismarck either from a taxation standpoint or from a purely educational viewpoint would be interesting to the citizens generally and might give the board of education inspiration in their none too easy task of school administration.

COST OF ROADS

The cost of keeping up American roads and building new ones last year was $4 for every man, woman and child—after deducting money from auto license fees. So reports the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is equivalent to a cent and a tenth a day for each of us. To save that much, few would surrender even the street in front of their house.

Roads are about the greatest blessing of civilization, also the cheapest.

RILEY

The Indianapolis home of James Whitcomb Riley has been bought by the Riley Memorial Association. It will be preserved as a "perpetual monument" to America's most popular poet of childhood.

A hundred years from now, when people visit the house where Riley lived 25 years and did most of his writing, they will not be able to understand his poems without explanatory textbooks.

His verse has, for a stage setting, homely household devices which, along with the life they expressed, are headed for extinction. Few of our present ways of life will survive in the year 2022.

A NEW SERVICE

A device for sending fingerprints by telegraph has been invented by Belin, Frechman who discovered how to send a photograph over the wires.

By this method, a suspect, wanted by the Paris police, could be identified in a quarter of an hour, by a machine reproducing fingerprints sent by cable.

Much talk about scientific advance among criminals. Yet it's next to impossible for criminals to keep ahead of scientific progress by detectives. Everything has an antidote, and it's always discovered. It's nature's law of action and reaction.

MORE CITY WORKERS

The country now has more workers in factories than on farms, for the first time in history. This is shown by the National City Bank's investigation, covering half a century.

In 50 years the number employed on farms less than doubled. Employees in manufacturing and mechanical industries gained 400 per cent, in trade and transportation 500 per cent.

The figures are out of line. They are made possible only by scientific agriculture.

The farmer of today is feeding more people than in the past. He's also getting more conveniences from city factories.

JAPAN

American business men, who are worrying about financial falling off in foreign trade, can take fresh heart from Japan, which reports its imports are exceeding its exports about the equivalent of $45,000,000 a month.

Meaning, Japan is going in the hole that much. Times might be a lot better in America. But they seem to be worse in every other country.

CHEAPER FOOD

To get cheaper food and more of it, county agricultural agents of the Department of Agriculture make 230,819 field demonstrations in a year. These demonstrations are scientific exhibitions, teaching how to grow more to the acre.

Hit-or-miss farming, trusting to providence and the elements, is a thing of the past. The American farm is becoming a chemical laboratory.

The Department of Agriculture is easily the most important branch of the national government, just as farmers are our most important citizens.

EMPLOYED

In 1880 there were in America 2,647,000 women and 14,745,000 men gainfully employed—working for wages or salaries.

In 40 years the number of employed women gained 221 per cent, men only 124 per cent, reaching a total of 8,594,000 women and 33,059,000 men.

Among those earning their own living by the pay envelope route, today there is one woman to four men.

The tendency steadily is upward. Unless there is a reaction, the general economic independence of women is not far off.

THEATRICAL MERGER

Five hundred of the country's leading theaters are merged in one gigantic transaction involving $100,000,000.

The purpose is to stop the building of needless theaters and eliminate duplication of effort in producing plays.

For the theatrical magnates, this merger probably is a good stroke of scientific management. It is part of a period of big consolidations, now under way in most basic industries.

Mergers, however, carried to the point of monopoly, would further deteriorate our anemic drama. Decay is steady and inevitable when all competition is eliminated.

MIXED JURIES A MISTAKE

This country is having its experience with mixed juries and the results are not at all inspiring.

In St. Paul five women were locked over night in a jury room with seven men, the cots on which they slept separated by a curtain. It is no wonder that Minnesota men are protesting against the compelling of their wives to serve on juries; no wonder the governor of Minnesota declares that he would not permit his wife to serve on a jury under such conditions; no wonder that Minnesota judges denounce the occurrence as disgraceful.

In Trenton this week a jury of six women and six men was locked up all night because of disagreement. One of the women described the experience as follows:

"We tried for several hours to reach a verdict, but in vain. Then we went out for cards and newspapers and played cards with the men, and read the papers. After we got tired of this we took the cushions off the seats and took naps about the room. The men were very considerate of us. All the women accepted the experience good naturedly, but some of them expressed anxiety as to how matters were going at home. One woman told me her husband had put the children to bed and in the morning had dressed them, prepared their breakfast and sent them to school."

There's a picture of progress and emancipation for you! The wife passing the night miserably in a jury room where half the jurors are men while the husband, at home, dresses the children and prepares their breakfast.

It is futile to say that sensible officials would have provided privacy for the women jurors. For centuries it has been the custom not to separate a jury. In this and most other states the law provides that the jury shall be "kept together." If the custodians of a jury were to separate the women jurors from the men the losing side of the case could claim a mistrial.

The mixed jury will not work. If the courts are determined to have women on juries, or if women are determined to get on juries, let it be so arranged that the juries will be all women or all men.

New York state, which has not opened the jury gate to women, can learn a lesson from the experience in Minnesota and New Jersey. — New York Herald.

AND THEN—!!

First Steamboat On Upper Missouri; Story Told By Resident of So. Dakota

In 1830 Mr. Kenneth McKenzie had charge of the "Upper Missouri Outfit" of the American Fur Co. He built Fort Union at the mouth of the Yellowstone for his headquarters and during five years of very successful work there he showed great executive ability, remarkable foresight and venturesome enterprise. He saw the need and advantages of a steamboat to carry the goods and supplies of the Company's northwestern trading posts, especially for the vigorous enlargement of their business. But his "scheme of taking a steamboat up the Missouri to the mouth of the Yellowstone river" was then an experiment, "and the majority of the business men of St. Louis doubted its success" for until 1831 scarcely a steamboat business was done (on the Missouri) above the mouth of the Kansas River (where Kansas City now is) and but very little below. But, McKenzie was the sort of a man to grapple with new and hazardous enterprises, and when in St. Louis in August, 1830, he "convinced the management there of the practicability of the project and it was decided to undertake it." Mr. Pierre Chouteau, Jr., the active western manager of the American Fur Co., wrote to his New York headquarters on August 30th, outlining in great detail the plan of this new enterprise. It is much to the credit of all concerned that the plan was immediately adopted.

A small, side-wheeled steamboat was contracted for in October and was built at Louisville, Ky. and named the "Yellowstone." It was taken to St. Louis, loaded, and started from there on April 16, 1831, for the upper Missouri. Captain B. Young was master of the boat, while its principal passenger was Pierre Chouteau, whose business sagacity was also shown in personal supervision of this experiment and in making a tour of inspection. After much delay, caused by low water (the boat dragging five feet) the "Yellowstone" on June 19, 1831, arrived at Fort Tecumseh, where Fort Pierre now is. No other steamboat had ascended the Missouri above the old Council Bluffs, (near Calhoun, Neb.) No attempt was made to go further up the river that year and the boat returned to St. Louis on July 15th.

In 1832 the "Yellowstone" left St. Louis on March 28th and arrived at Fort Tecumseh on May 31st. A distinguished passenger was the artist, George Catlin, and another was Pierre Chouteau, Jr., in whose honor the new trading post was named which was built near Fort Tecumseh to replace it when it was soon after undermined by the "raging Missouri." Fort Pierre Chouteau was the original name of Fort Pierre.

Leaving there on June 16th, the steamboat went up to Fort Union, arriving there about June 17th. The "Yellowstone" returned to Fort Pierre on June 23rd.

The interest created by the voyage of the "Yellowstone" extended, not only over the United States, but to Europe as well, and John Jacob Astor, who was in France, wrote that the voyage "attracted much attention in Europe and has been noted in all the papers here. This wonderful craft made a profound impression upon the Indians, exciting the keenest astonishment and even a feeling of terror. It increased their respect

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Now, the Dream Seller lives at the fourth end of the earth, but he sells good dreams only. When one wishes a wicked dream he goes to Eena Meena, the magician who lives on a star. He boils all sorts of dreams—makes 'em up to order.

So Twelve Toes, the Sorcerer, desiring a specially terrible dream, changed himself into a bat and flew up to the star to old Eena Meena.

"Hello," he said flying down Eena Meena's chimney, to that person's astonishment, and hanging upside down by his feet on the clothes line where Eena Meena's dreams were drying in bags.

"Hello," said the magician. "What a start you did give me, Twelve Toes! What can I do for you?"

"I want two dreams—awful ones," croaked Twelve Toes. "I want 'em for a boy and a girl called Nick and Nancy who are giving me a lot of trouble. They are on their way to the palace of the Princess Therna, who lives between the kingdom of the Diddys and the Kingdom of the Kwiknotts. They carry a phonograph record given them by Longhead, the wiseman. I don't want them to get there, because when they do the princess will marry either the king of one country or the other, and I want her for myself."

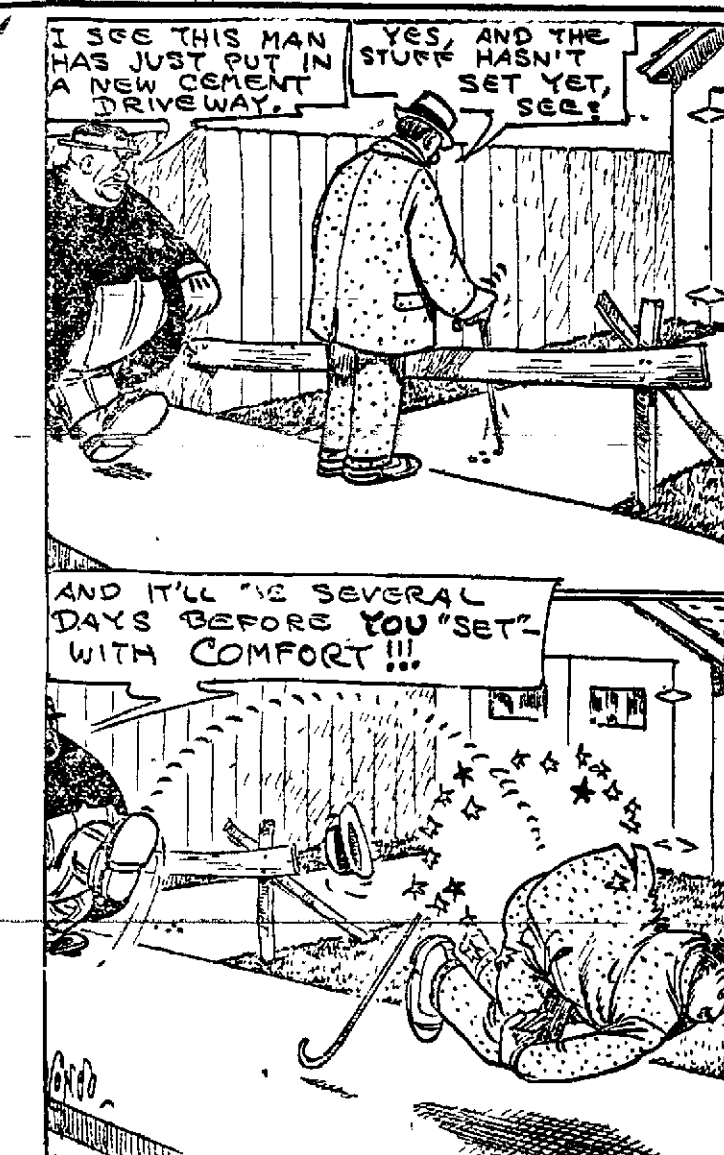

"I see—ee—ee!" grinned wicked old Eena Meena. "You want dreams that will make them lose their way." "Right o!" croaked Twelve Toes. "They are asleep now in the lovely valley between the Electric Mountain and the Elderdown Mountain, and they will start over the Elderdown Mountain at daybreak. They have so much magic along I'm afraid they'll get there."

"I'll help you," nodded Eena Meena, going to his cupboard and taking down bottles, cups and measuring glasses.

Then he went down cellar and after

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is PREVARICATE. It's pronounced 'pre-var-i-kayt, with accent on the second syllable. It means—to evade the truth, to give an ambiguous answer, to quibble, to deviate from the truth.

It comes from Latin "prevaricari," to walk crookedly.

Companion word—prevarication. It's used like this—"As the prosecutor fired question after question, the witness was inclined to prevaricate."

FIFTY YEARS AGO
a woman in Lynn, Mass., was steeping herbs on her kitchen stove according to a recipe of her own, to furnish medicine for the women of the neighborhood. Today, a stone's throw from the little home where she lived there is a four-story laboratory, making the same medicine for the women of the world. During the last year almost 500 tons of carefully selected herbs were used in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

---and we are a healthy, happy family now

-Louis Gingras

Tingling with abundant energy, appetites hearty, nerves strong and steady and their faces radiant with the glow of perfect health, the entire family of Louis Gingras, 9 Harrison Ave., Providence, R. I., are an eloquent tribute to the powers of Tanlac, the greatest family medicine the world has ever known.

"I've put Tanlac to the test four times right in my own family and it hasn't failed me once," declared Mr. Gingras. "My wife, my son and my daughter, as well as myself, have all been built up from a half-sick run-down, worn-out set of people into a healthy, happy family brimful of new life and energy."

And the experience of this family is only typical of thousands of others whose statements are on file in the Tanlac offices. Hardly a day passes that does not bring scores of such messages of praise from every part of the United States and Canada from families where mother, father, son, and daughter have all found health, contentment and the joys of living through simply taking a course of Tanlac.

Take, for instance, the case of John Widner, 1571 Roosevelt Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., who says: "My wife myself and little boy are now as healthy, happy family as you will ever see—and it's all due to Tanlac." Or that of Mrs. John Marquis and her family of sixteen living in Manchester, N. H., at 292 Belmont St. She says: "Tanalac has been the only medicine used in our house for two years and it has kept every one of the sixteen here in the best of health."

In Chicago, Frank R. Richards, of 441 South Wood St., writes: "We will never be without Tanlac in our house after the remarkable way it has built up my wife, my son and myself to where we are the very picture of health."

"BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK," APRIL 24 TO 29

Albany, N. Y., March 24.—School children all over the United States, and grown-ups, too, are eligible to enter a contest in drawing posters to convey the idea of being humane to dumb beasts. It is announced by the American Humane Association headquarters at Albany.

The association has selected the week of April 24 to 29 as "Be Kind to Animals Week," and April 30 as "Humane Sunday," when it has asked clergy all over the country to disseminate the idea of kindness from their pulpits.

Cash prizes will be awarded various winners in the poster contest, the entrants being divided by age and experience into groups. An essay contest open to all Boy Scouts on the subject of protection to animals and another to what the Camp Fire girls are eligible to enter in drawing posters to convey the idea of being humane to dumb beasts. It is announced by the American Humane Association headquarters at Albany.

It is announced by the American Humane Association headquarters at Albany.

The association has selected the week of April 24 to 29 as "Be Kind to Animals Week," and April 30 as "Humane Sunday," when it has asked clergy all over the country to disseminate the idea of kindness from their pulpits.

Cash prizes will be awarded various winners in the poster contest, the entrants being divided by age and experience into groups. An essay contest open to all Boy Scouts on the subject of protection to animals and another to what the Camp Fire girls are eligible to enter in drawing posters to convey the idea of being humane to dumb beasts. It is announced by the American Humane Association headquarters at Albany.

STATE SEEKS IN MURDER TRIAL TO PROVE INDIANA WOMAN "BLUEBEARD"

Investigation Widened.

And Prosecutor Gling has caused the body of Robert Gibson, a former husband of Mrs. Carl, to be exhumed from a cemetery in Nelsonville, Ohio, and the internal organs examined for traces of poison.

If the analysis shows poison, it may result in Mrs. Carl's being held for a third killing! Here is the story of Mrs. Carl's life, as unearthed by the authorities here: Mrs. Carl, whose maiden name was Clara Green, was the daughter of a New Straitsville (O.) farmer. Robert Gibson was the son of a New Straitsville florist and was a teacher in the village school.

Eloped When Girl.
Clara and Gibson were childhood sweethearts. On March 14, 1903, the two eloped and were wed. They moved to Cleveland, where Gibson continued teaching and Clara became a newspaper writer.

Soon Clara and Gibson began traveling about from town to town, writing histories of the towns and selling the books by subscription. Gibson went unaccompanied by his wife, to Huntsville, Mo., on business. His wife, Clara, came to visit him.

Shortly after her arrival, the prosecutor charges, Gibson was seized with an unusual illness and died.

In September of the same year, Clara, now a widow, met Frank Carl at Seneca, Kan. They were married soon after.

Clara and Carl went to New Philadelphia, Ind., and made their home there. They invited Carl's father, Alonzo Carl, 55, to live with them. He accepted.

Father-in-Law Dies.
Shortly after his arrival at New Philadelphia, the elder Carl became violently ill and died July 3, 1921.

Carl took his father's body to Hiawatha, Kan., where the father formerly had lived, for burial. Clara did not go.

Carl, the prosecutor says, had always been known as a man of perfect health and powerful physique. But after his return from Hiawatha, he became thin and pale, the prosecutor charges.

He continued to suffer. His skin became drawn. He suffered cramps in the calves of his legs.

On Aug. 7, 1921, Carl died. A shower of letters poured in on authorities demanding an investigation of the mysterious deaths.

PHILADELPHIA THE ELDER CARL BECAME VIOLENTLY ILL AND DIED JULY 3, 1921.

Carl took his father's body to Hiawatha, Kan., where the father formerly had lived, for burial. Clara did not go.

Carl, the prosecutor says, had always been known as a man of perfect health and powerful physique. But after his return from Hiawatha, he became thin and pale, the prosecutor charges.

He continued to suffer. His skin became drawn. He suffered cramps in the calves of his legs.

On Aug. 7, 1921, Carl died. A shower of letters poured in on authorities demanding an investigation of the mysterious deaths.

Charges Poison Found.
Examination of the bodies of Carl and his father, Prosecutor Gling declares, "showed they contained enough arsenic to kill a dozen men."

The prosecutor charges Mrs. Carl poisoned the elder Carl that his small estate might be inherited by her husband and then poisoned her husband so that the estate might revert to her together with $2,000 of fraternal order insurance and other possessions of Carl.

Mrs. Carl also secured $3,000 in life insurance from Gibson, her first husband, the prosecutor contends. The nature of Gibson's death was identical with that of the deaths of Carl and his father, Gling now seeks to prove.

Denies Guilt.
Asked for a statement at the Hancock county jail here Mrs. Carl said: "I am not guilty of all this. I loved my family always."

And Mrs. Carl's attorney added: "The woman is innocent. It will be shown that Alonzo Carl committed suicide, that Frank Carl died from natural causes and that no crime was committed."

And the people around Greenfield, stirred by the weird case, await the trial's outcome.

THRILLS GALORE IN NEW TOM MIX PICTURE
Tom Mix will bring a score of new stunts and thrills to the Capitol theater tonight, when he will appear in his latest William Fox picture, "Chasing the Moon." Tom does many of his daring stunts in Russia, and much of the fun of which there is said to be a fund—is in seeing the bewilderment of a band of Russian bandits who never dreamed a human being could think so fast.

Eva Nevsk is again Tom's leading woman. Others in the cast are William Buckley, Sid Jordan, Elsie Danic and Wynn Mace. Edward Sedgwick and Tom Mix are responsible for the scenario, and Sedgwick did the directing.

THE ELTINGE.
A thrilling football game is one of the big features of "Two Minutes to Go," starring Charles Ray, who is himself an ex-gladiator of the gridiron. This picture is being shown at the Eltinge on Saturday.

Ray has the role of a football hero, Chester Burnett, temporarily fallen into disgrace with his fellow players because, for some reason unknown to them, he suddenly quits the team.

They do not know the true reason. Neither does his sweetheart Ruth Turner. Financial reverses suffered by his father force Chet to seek some means of earning his own way through college.

Secretly he gets a job peddling milk in the early hours of the morning, and the fact that he is ashamed of this only makes matters worse for him.

Then comes the day of the big game, when only Chet can save his team from defeat. He jumps into the contest and things begin to happen all around.

"Two Minutes to Go," a fascinating and humorous story of college life by Richard Andre, provides Charles Ray with just the sort of role best suited to his own peculiar and exceptional talent.

"The Sheikh" is being shown for the last time tonight (Friday) at the Eltinge.

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It
In the year of 1893 I was attacked by muscular and subcutaneous rheumatism, suffering as only those who are thus afflicted know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a pitiful condition never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same in my own case.

BELIEVE SCHOOL TEACHER SLAIN

Minneapolis, March 24.—Detectives searching for Miss Lorraine Schneider, 23, missing school teacher of Avon, Minn., were working today on the theory that she had been murdered. They believe that she was lured to some out-of-the-way place and killed. An extensive fur coat which she bought is believed to have aroused the cupidity of the slayer.

ARMY MEASURE IS CHANGED

Washington, March 24.—Provisions of the army appropriation bill which would have required the withdrawal of certain regular army troops from China, Hawaii and Germany by July 1 were eliminated from the measure today by the house.

CRUSH WOMEN IN BANK RUN

Chicago, March 24.—Several women were crushed and trampled in a scramble of depositors of the North-western side of Chicago in attempting to enter the bank this morning. The run resulted from a false rumor.

PLAN GOPHER POISON DRIVE

Bowbells, N. D., March 24.—Eight townships already have ordered more than 6,000 quarts of gopher poison from the county agent and additional orders are being received daily. According to present indications, practically every township in the county will order poison and join in the drive to clean out the gophers. Lake View township has ordered 1,600 quarts of the poisoned oats and will employ several men to poison every foot of the 15 miles of lake front along the western edge of the township, where the gophers have been very thick.

MOTHER! OPEN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"

Your little one will love the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" even if constipated, bilious, irritable, feverish, or full of cold. A teaspoonful never fails to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you see for yourself how thoroughly it works. All the sour bile and undigested food out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.
